Popeye: Sixty Years In Films

This year marks the 60th anniversary of Popeye's 1933 movie screen debut in Popeye The Sailor. The cartoon opens with live action footage of newspaper headlines announcing the event, and a photo of Popeye comes to life as he sings his trademark theme song I'm Popeye The Sailor Man. Although it was presented as a Betty Boop cartoon, Betty had just a brief appearance as a hula dancer. The first "official" Popeye cartoon was released two months later - I Yam What I Yam.

Popeye originated in E.C. Segar's Thimble Theatre newspaper comic strip. He first appeared on January 17th, 1929 and was such a hit with the readers that the strip was soon renamed Thimble Theatre starring Popeye. The cartoon studio of Max and Dave Fleischer had already enjoyed great success with their original characters Koko the Clown and Betty Boop, but they were looking to add to their stable of animated stars. They bought the movie rights to Popeye from King Features, and began a run of over 600 animated cartoons featuring the sailor and his associates Bluto, Olive Oyl, Wimpy, Swee' Pea, Poopdeck Pappy, and many more.

In the early Popeye cartoons, the characters were a bit raw as the Fleischers refined the concept from film to film. Popeye was gruff and solemn, with his voice performed by vaudevillian William Costello. After the first year Costello was replaced, and soon the role was taken by Jack Mercer: an in-betweener at the studio who had been doing the voice just for fun. Mercer gave the character an irresistible sense of humor and playfulness, and contributed the witty under-the-breath mutterings that made Popeye so endearing. Mae Questel (Betty Boop) handled Olive Oyl's voice. Eventually she and Mercer developed a habit of ad-libbing dialogue together that brought spark to many of the later cartoons.

Unlike the Midwestern, rural sensibility of Disney films, the cartoons produced by the Fleischers reflect a gritty, urban outlook. Beginning with the Betty Boop series and continuing with Popeye, their cartoons used a wonderfully rich palette of grays. The Fleischer soundtracks tended to favor a more raw feeling, and often were built around pop and jazz superstars of the day like Cab Calloway and Louis Armstrong. Many cartoons were built around songs by Sammy Timberg and Sammy Lerner. In contrast to the reigning Disney characters like Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck, the Popeye cast featured imaginative Segar creations like Eugene The Jeep, Poopdeck Pappy, The Sea Hag and the unforgettably bizarre Goons.

Popeye was such a hit with the public that Paramount encouraged the Fleischers to make a Popeye "special". The result was Popeye The Sailor Meets Sinbad the Sailor, a two-reel (double-length) Technicolor short released in 1936. Many theatres treated it as a feature film, advertising it as the main attraction over the feature film on the same bill. Sinbad is a funny, imaginative and masterfully animated film that takes full advantage of the rainbow Technicolor palette. The film was a great success, and was followed by two sequels in the same format.

Sinbad made excellent use of Fleischer's breathtaking "3-D" process. Well before Disney unveiled the multi-plane camera, Max Fleischer had invented his own technique for achieving a realistic sense of depth on screen. Elaborately detailed miniature sets were built on a huge turntable, and these backgrounds were photographed through the clear cels. The on-screen effect was startling, giving not so much an "illusion" of depth as the real thing. Undoubtedly the technique was quite costly, as it only appears occasionally in the Popeye series. But Max Fleischer was understandably proud of his inventions (he also patented the Rotoscope), and tried to utilize them whenever possible.

In 1942, Paramount forced the Fleischers out of their studio, following their two unsuccessful forays into feature-length films, Gulliver's Travels and Mr. Bug Goes To Town. The Popeye series was continued by the newly-formed Famous Studios, and from there on all made in color. Former Fleischer employees Seymour Kneitel and Izzy Sparber took over the creative duties for Famous, and continued to turn out Popeye cartoons until 1957. These later films were still funny, and Jack Mercer still gave the character his unique personality, but the edge the Fleischers gave Popeye was definitely missing.

The year before the theatrical Popeye series ended, 234 of the shorts were syndicated on television, and became a smashing success all over again. In 1961, King Features decided to cash in on the sailor's resurgent popularity by ordering 220 "new" Popeye cartoons for the TV market. Several different studios produced these poorly animated films, with Jack Kinney Studios doing the bulk of the really ghastly ones, and Paramount Cartoon Studios doing the least awful. It was at this time that King Features changed Bluto's name to Brutus, because Paramount (incorrectly) claimed to own the name of Bluto.

In 1978, Hanna-Barbera and CBS presented "The All New Popeye Hour" for Saturday morning TV, which lasted in various formats for five years. In 1987 they tried again with "Popeye and Son", a truly horrific attempt at "updating" the Popeye characters. Currently, there have been more than 600 Popeye cartoons made over the years, from 1933 to 1988.

Do you wonder why there are so few Popeye cartoons listed in our catalog? Ted Turner controls the classic black & white Popeye library, and he has shown no inclination to put them on home video. However, he has colorized them for broadcast on his Cartoon Network. Why don't you write to him and let him know how you feel about that?

THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT VIDEO:

All our videocassettes are available in the VHS-NTSC format. To our overseas customers who desire PAL or SECAM formats: sorry, we can't help you. To our diehard customers who desire Beta format: we will be happy to oblige you if possible. A small number of the titles can be had in Beta, but they will be special orders. Please inquire.

VHS Recording Speeds:

VHS videorecorders offer 3 record/playback speeds: SP (Standard Play/2 hr.), LP (Long Play/4 hr.) or SLP/EP (Super Long Play/Extended Play/6 hr.). Nowadays some VCR's offer only 2 speeds: SP and SLP/EP. There are a handful of tapes offered here that are only available in the LP mode. Please be aware that some VCR's cannot play LP tapes properly. Check your machine before ordering.

We're concerned with quality at Whole Toon, so we generally offer only SP tapes in the catalog. But sometimes a title is available only in EP mode, so we make an exception. Lately, more and more manufacturers are switching to EP recording in an effort to cut costs. When we know a tape is EP, we always indicate it, but sometimes we don't know if we haven't actually viewed the tape ourselves.

Laserdisc Formats:

There are two laserdisc formats: Extended Play/CLV (Constant Linear Velocity) and Standard Play/CAV (Constant Angular Velocity). Unlike videotape, there is no difference in picture quality between the two formats. However, only the more expensive CAV format can produce freeze-frames, variable playback speeds, multiple soundtracks and other special effects (unless you own a very expensive laserdisc player with a digital frame buffer). If you wish to study a film frame by frame, you will need to get the CAV format. (CAV also is the only video format with a true 1 to 1 film frame to video frame correspondence).

MORATORIUM is a term you'll run across often in the video world. It means that the title is no longer being produced by the manufacturer. When a tape is on moratorium, we can no longer get any from the manufacturer, although we may still have some stock left, or still be able to find a distributor with some unsold copies.

If a tape has gone on moratorium before this catalog was printed, we haven't listed it unless we're sure we can provide a decent supply. If you're looking for a tape that's not listed (i.e. many of the Disney classics), it's worth calling us to ask about it. Although we don't have it in sufficient quantity to list it, we may still be able to come up with a few copies here and there.

THE WHOLE TOON CATALOG

ACCESS TO TOONS

Thanks to all you cartoon fans, we're now well into our fifth year of the Whole Toon Catalog. Your response has been gratifying to us all. As we continue to work tirelessly to bring you more and more animation, please continue to let us know what we're doing right (and wrong).

The next time you phone Whole Toon or stop by our showroom, one of these characters will undoubtedly be standing by to take your order, answer your questions, and generally give you service that's so outstanding... it's not even funny! From left: Bob, Laurie, Doug, Gordon.

We strive to provide our customers with the most comprehensive selection of animation on Earth. We buy from hundreds of sources in several countries and we're constantly searching for more. After years of serving animation fans, scholars and professionals, we've gotten a pretty fair idea of what you want from us, and with each new catalog we try to focus more efficiently on it.

We take the Whole in Whole Toon Catalog seriously. Our customers expect to find cartoons here, so we continue to expand our video section with each new catalog. From the latest Disney feature release to the most obscure art film on some small video label—if it's animated (and we can get our hands on it), you'll find it listed here. We try to apply a consistent criteria to our selections, eliminating the "storybook" videos that often get passed off as animation, and live-action puppetry such as the Muppets or "Supermarionation" like The Thunderbirds and Captain Scarlett. This also goes for books. We offer just about every currently in-print book dealing with animation, but we don't carry comic books, Far Side collections, or children's storybooks.

If you don't see what you're looking for, please ask for it. Unless we have an adequate supply on hand, we won't list out of print book titles or discontinued video titles. However, we just might still have some around the store, so it can't hurt to ask. Also keep in mind that new books and videos are released constantly, while our full catalog is printed only twice a year. I something becomes available between catalogs, we'll most likely have it on hand when you call.

61 Years of Academy Award® Winners & Nominees

You may be familiar with many of the animated short films that have won Oscars® over the years, but did you know who the runners-up were? This listing was provided to Whole Toon courtesy of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Each title that is currently available on home video in this catalog is indicated with a ☆ and a number in superscript (⁹) after the title indicates what videotape or disc the film appears on. Although certain films may appear on more than one home video release, only one or two video sources are given due to space restrictions. The winning film is listed first and in boldface type for each year. The artist credit to the right of each title is taken from the A.M.P.A.S. listing provided to us—in some cases these credits indicate the producer or copyright holder rather than the individual artist(s) responsible for the film. A few of the films may be offered on home video from a source not available to Whole Toon.

AMERICAN ANIMATED FILMS: THE SILENT ERA, 1897-1929

Denis Gifford (1990)

Arranged chronologically by series, this is the first complete annotated listing of all the animated films produced in the United States before the advent of sound. The book forms a companion volume to the author's British Animated Films 1895-1985 and will prove a boon to researchers of the history and development of animation. In this volume is information that has been scattered and virtually inaccessible for more than half a century.

ANIMATED FILMS OF DON BLUTH

John Cawley (1991)

John Cawley traces the career of Don Bluth from his years in the Disney animation department to the creation of his own company and films. There are sections on all of his major projects, from Banjo, Dragon's Lair and Space Ace through Rock-A-Doodle. Each project is described in detail, including plot synopses and full production credits. The Bluth saga is traced through the move to Ireland, and many future projects are discussed. A very thorough reference work on one of the industry's most prolific talents.

ANIMATED TV SPECIALS: Complete Directory to The First 25 Years, 1962-1987 George W. Woolery (1989)

Like Woolery's previous book "Children's Television", this volume is an amazing feat of research. It is an encyclopedic listing of all the special animated presentations aired on various networks or syndicated extensively in the U.S., from the first in 1962 through the 1987 season. It's the first book to trace the history, growth and development of animated films broadcast on American TV through descriptive profiles. Each entry includes broadcast history, production credits, narrators & voices and a lengthy synopsis and analysis. The book is thoroughly cross-referenced. A truly awesome and complete reference tool for researchers and fans alike.

ANIMATING CULTURE Hollywood Cartoons from the Sound Era Eric Smoodin (1993)

Smoodin explores the animated short and the system that mass-produced them from a scholarly viewpoint. He examines how they were exhibited in theatres and how they fit into the overall bill of fare presented to the audience. Who did they speak to? What did they say about race, class and gender? What were the social functions of Donald Duck and Minnie Mouse? He argues that cartoons appealed to a wide audience, not just children, and contributed to public debate about political matters. His analysis of the multiple discourses embedded in a variety of cartoons reveals the complex and sometimes contradictory ways that animation dealt with class relations, labor, imperialism and censorship.

THE ART OF THE ANIMATED IMAGE

Edited by Charles Solomon (1987)

This anthology was published in conjunction with AFI's Walter Lantz Conference On Animation (June 1987) and is a collection of essays and talks presented on a wide range of topics within the animation field. Subjects range from early pioneers such as J. Stuart Blackton, a technical discussion of Disney's multi-plane camera, women in animation, to today's multi-puter animation. A loose chronicle of animation as told by a variety of authors, from those that were there in the early days to those working on the future of animation.

Behind The Scenes of An Animated Film
Elaine Scott (1992)

Although written for the "young reader", Scott's book is an in-depth look at the making of the stop-motion animated film Ralph Mouse, a sequel to The Mouse and the Motorcycle, based on Beverly Cleary's children's book. This book tracks the process from the very beginnings, as Churchill Films gets the film rights and sells the idea to ABC. The book then details the storyboarding process, casting, set building, and puppet design (including a step-by-step description of building the armature, sculpting the mouse, pouring the mold, and applying fur to the rubber mouse). Other chapters detail the technical process of stop-motion animation and the use of a surface gauge, as well as traveling mattes, rear projection, remote wiring schemes, and post-production.

PRINCE OF THE MAGIC KINGDOM

Michael Eisner and the Re-Making of Disney

Joe Flower (1991)

Joe Flower's unauthorized account of Disney's comeback from the post-Walt doldrums is notable for the wealth of detailed inside information. But Flower's most remarkable accomplishment is that his book is just a terrific read. He manages to get the reader through all the stock maneuverings and takeover attempts without a trace of tedium, meanwhile driving home just how immense an empire Disney built in his lifetime. Best of all, Flower imparts a true understanding of how Walt's death left the company rudderless, with aging theme parks, worn-out formula movies, and a jumbled, sputtering feature animation department. When you finish this book, you will have a much better idea of who Michael Eisner is, how he earned his whiz-kid image, and what he did to remedy Disney's weaknesses and capitalize on its strengths. Of course, it's up to you to decide how you feel about Eisner's vision.

WALT IN WONDERLAND The Silent Films of Walt Disney

Russell Merritt &
J.B. Kaufman (1992)

From 1921 to 1928, Walt Disney made upwards of 90 silent films, including the Alice comedies and Oswald cartoons. Years before Mickey Mouse, he recruited an extraordinary array of talent that included Ubbe Iwerks, Rudy Ising, Carl Stalling, Hugh Harman and Friz Freleng. Drawing on interviews with co-workers, business papers, promotional materials, scripts, drawings, and correspondence, the authors have done a remarkable job of reconstructing Disney's silent film career. Those interested in the pre-Mickey days will find this book an unparalleled source of facts, critical insight, and rare imagery- including much artwork from Disney's own hand. Presented in a beautifully designed book that includes a detailed and complete filmography up to and including Steamboat Willie. Published in Italy with both English text and Italian translation.

WOMEN & ANIMATION NEW! A Compendium

Edited by Jayne Pilling (1992)

The first publication of its kind, this compendium from the British Film Institute explores and celebrates women's contributions to the field of animation. It covers historically important animators as well as the enormous growth of women's work over the last two decades. Contents include a number of reprinted articles and interviews as well as original features, unpublished academic work and recent interviews. A few of the animators featured are Lotte Reiniger, Sally Cruickshank, Faith Hubley, Joanna Priestly, Caroline Leaf, Candy Guard and Alison de Vere. An international A-Z is a 26-page biographical/filmographical section covering 172 filmmakers. Also included is a lengthy bibliography. This book is an exhaustive reference work that no animation library should be without.

GRIFFITHIANA #43

(Dec. 1991) Masterpieces of Animation 1833-1908
Griffithiana is an Italian journal published by Le Giornate Del Cinema Muto. This issue is a catalogue of the exhibition arranged by David Robinson at the 10th Pordenone Silent Film Festival, Oct. 1991. Animator Richard Williams once marvelled at the animation of "Le jeu de corde", an Emile Reynaud praxinoscope film strip ca. 1877. He pointed out that in only 12 frames, Reynaud demonstrated the highest skills of animation, including the sense of weight and gravity that animators still strive for with varying degrees of success. The 150 color illustrations of this unprecedented exhibition offer a wealth of images from 19th century proto-animation systems with names such as Phenakistiscope, Phantasmascope, Fantascop, Zoopraxiscop, Ludoscop, Novitoscop, Zoetrope, Tachyscop, Praxinoscop and Cinematograph. Presented with scholarly attention to detail in a beautifully printed book with both English and Italian text.

THAT TIME FORGOT

THE UB IWERKS COLLECTION

A 7-volume series programmed by Greg Ford, celebrating the pioneering solo animation work of Ub Iwerks and the Van Beuren Studio. Characters like Flip The Frog, Cubby Bear, Willie Whopper and Molly Moo Cow may not be household names, but the people behind them - Ub Iwerks, Grim Natwick, Frank Tashlin, Irv Spence, Bill Littlejohn, Burt Gillette, Shamus Culhane and Carl Stalling - make for a veritable Who's Who of master cartoon makers. This series unearths important missing links in animation history, mostly mastered from the restored original negatives, that have not been seen in decades.

CARTOONS TIME FORGOT VOL. 1: ALL SINGING! ALL DANCING!

75 min. 1930-35 [Ub Iwerks] Color/B&W
The first volume in a series of classic Ub Iwerks and Van Beuren cartoons, assembled by Greg Ford. 10 titles: Fiddlesticks! ('30), The Soup Song ('31), The Little Red Hen ('34), The Village Smithy ('31), Mary's Little Lamb ('35), The Village Barber ('31), Old Mother Hubbard ('35), Humpty Dumpty ('35), The Bremer-town Musicians ('35) and Summertime ('35).

CARTOON MADNESS

The Fantastic Max Fleischer Cartoons
94 min. 1993 [Fleischer]

Leonard Maltin narrates a retrospective of Fleischer animation, covering the spectrum and providing rare behind the scenes footage of the 3-D tabletop system and the new Florida studio. Many clips and much intelligent commentary. 8 complete cartoons: She Reminds Me Of You (Screen Song), Koko's Earth Control ('27), Dimbo's Initiation ('31), Snow White, Poor Cinderella, Dancing On The Moon, Raggedy Ann & Andy and Betty Boop's May Party. Unbelievably clean film prints. The show mysteriously glosses over Popeye and Superman, but is nonetheless well worth watching.

PINOCCHIO (DISNEY)
88 min. 1940 [Disney] Hi-Fi Stereo
Considered by many to be the finest film Disney ever made, it cost a staggering 2.5 million dollars (about 60 million if made today). Directed by Ben Sharpsteen and Hamilton Luske, this is the tale of the little puppet who comes to life, and his struggles to grow up among some terribly bad influences. The scenes of Monstro the Whale and the multiplane camera opening sequence are worth the price of admission by themselves. Probably the definitive example of "Disney animation".

NEW!

Available
August 18th
1993

These are the original UNCUT episodes as seen on American TV. Duplicated in standard play, two episodes per tape. The series begins with episode one, and will continue straight through to episode 85, in numerical order.

THE TWISTED TALE OF ROBOTTECH ON HOME VIDEO:

Family Home Entertainment has announced the re-release of the entire Robottech series. The completely repackaged series begins at the beginning, with The Macross Saga, and features two uncut episodes per tape, duplicated in Standard Play. When all 42 volumes are out, it will be the first time the entire series has been available from the same source at the same time.

FHE had the video rights to the series years ago, but released only the Macross Saga portion, in edited form and duplicated in Extended Play. When the tapes sold poorly, the New Generation and Southern Cross portions of the series were licensed to Palladium Books, who already held the Robottech game license.

When both FHE and Palladium's rights expired in 1992, the series was picked up by Streamline Pictures, whose president, Carl Macek, had originally produced the series for American TV. Streamline announced two series of tapes: a collection of the complete series as shown on American TV, and a "Perfect" collection containing each American episode together with its original Japanese counterpart. Such a daunting project proved too big for Streamline—they only managed to get 5 volumes of the regular series and 3 volumes of the "Perfect" series released. While FHE will now handle release of the regular series, Streamline says they plan to follow through on the "Perfect" collection.

For would-be Robottech collectors, this musical chairs video history has been frustrating, to say the least. Those who snapped up the Palladium collections a few years ago are at least two-thirds of the way home. But those who began buying the Streamline collection may have to go back to square one.

The Warped Animation of Bill Plympton
65 min. 1992 [Renegade Films]

This documentary film examines the work and working methods of animator Bill Plympton. Bill discusses his work and industry figures such as Matt Groening offer their insights and comments. This is an engrossing overview of the only man ever to produce a feature-length animated film almost entirely single-handed. You will learn not only how he does it, but also why he does it. Highly recommended for any serious student of the art form.

URUSEI YATSURA

URUSEI YATSURA TV SERIES VOL. 1

100 min. 1981 [Kitty Films]
Loosely translated to "Those Obnoxious Aliens", Urusei Yatsura is a risqué, slapstick comedy by Takahashi Rumiko. Animation of Lum is used in Matthew Sweet's I've Been Waiting music video. The series consists of 196 half-hour TV episodes, 11 OVA's, and six feature-length movies. This tape contains episodes 1-4: Ataru Moroboshi, the world's unluckiest teenager, is forced to play a game of tag with the beautiful alien princess Lum (she of the tiger-striped bikini). If he loses, the aliens will foreclose on Earth. When Ataru wins (with his girlfriend's help), Lum takes his victory cry as a marriage proposal. As Lum plans the wedding, Ataru's envious friends plot to get him out of the way. Then Lum's relatives start visiting and things start to get really weird. Japanese with English subtitles. Brief nudity and adult situations.

HOW TO ORDER

Mail your completed order form, along with a check or money order for the full amount made payable to: WHOLE TOON ACCESS

Or you can charge your purchase to your VISA, MasterCard or Discover card. Please do not send cash and please, no C.O.D.'s

Please give us a street address if possible, and make sure to include your Apartment or Suite number, if applicable.

To order by phone, please call us at (206) 391-8747, from 9:00-6:00 Pacific Time Monday through Friday or 10:00-5:00 Saturday.

DELIVERY

Most orders will be shipped via Priority Mail or United Parcel Service. Post Office Boxes and APO/FPO's must be sent by mail, so please give us a street address to ship to if possible.

Most orders will be shipped within 2 weeks but occasionally we need longer, so please allow 4 to 6 weeks for delivery. If you need delivery sooner, please indicate it on the "Special Instructions" line at the top of the order form.

DAMAGED GOODS

All shipments are insured. If you receive goods damaged in transit, please contact the carrier first (UPS or the Postal Service) and report the damage. Then notify us so that we may rush you a replacement for the damaged merchandise.

RETURNS & REFUNDS

It's simple. If you're not completely satisfied with your purchase for any reason, we'll gladly give you a refund or an exchange. This applies to all our merchandise under all circumstances without exception.

Please wrap the items you wish to return in their original packing materials and enclose a brief note explaining why you're returning the items, and whether you wish an exchange or a refund. We will credit you for the cost of the return postage.

SHIPPING & HANDLING

INSIDE THE CONTINENTAL U.S.A.

CHARGES FOR UPS GROUND OR FIRST CLASS MAIL:

VIDEOCASSETTES are $1.25 each.

LASERDISCS are $1.25 each.

POSTERS are $4.50 per tube-full (up to 10 posters in one tube).

ALL OTHER ITEMS vary greatly in weight and size, so there is a shipping charge indicated for each item directly underneath the selling price listed in the catalog. If no shipping charge is shown, it's FREE.

THERE IS A $4.00 MINIMUM SHIPPING & HANDLING CHARGE.

Therefore, if the total of the individual shipping charges adds up to less than $4.00, you must still pay the $4.00 minimum.

Shipping charges include insurance, and are calculated to reflect the cost of a typical-sized shipment. If you are placing a very large order, please ask us to calculate your shipping charges specially. You may save some money.

CANADA

Most orders are sent via Air Parcel Post. Orders weighing 2 pounds or less will fall under our $4.00 minimum shipping charge. Larger packages must be mailed at a more expensive rate, so figure double the regular shipping charges. If you charge your purchase to a credit card, we will calculate the exact shipping cost and add it to your bill.

OUTSIDE NORTH AMERICA

If you charge your purchase to a credit card, we will calculate the exact shipping cost and add it to your bill. Please specify Air Parcel Post or Surface Mail (please note that Surface Mail can take at least 6 weeks). If you do not use a credit card, please send us your order without payment. We will advise you of availability of the items you want, and notify you of the total cost, including shipping. You may then send us a money order in U.S. Dollars (money orders must be drawn on a bank with a U.S. branch office).

RUSH DELIVERY

As a special service, we can send your order via several air carriers: UPS 2-Day Air, UPS Next Day Air, Federal Express or Express Mail. This service is available on phone orders only, so that we may confirm the item availability and advise you of the extra cost.

The Official List of Disney Animated Features

The following list was provided to us by the folks at Disney. These are the 31 films that they consider their fully-animated feature films. Due to popular demand from our customers, we are reprinting this guide to collecting Disney classics on home video. We have noted next to each film its home video availability. (Some of the discontinued titles can still be readily found - others are now expensive collectibles)

SHIPPING CHARGES

INSIDE THE CONTINENTAL USA:

UPS GROUND OR FIRST CLASS MAIL:

VIDEOCASSETTES & LASERDISCS: $1.25 ea.

ALL OTHER ITEMS vary greatly in weight and size, so there is a shipping charge indicated for each item directly underneath the selling price listed in the catalog. If no shipping charge is shown, it's FREE.

There is a $4.00 Minimum Shipping and Handling Charge.

Therefore, if the total of the individual shipping charges adds up to less than $4.00, you must still pay the $4.00 minimum.

Shipping charges include insurance, and are calculated to reflect the cost of a typical-sized shipment. If you are placing a very large order, please ask us to calculate your shipping charges specially. You may save some money.

CANADA:

Most orders are sent via Air Parcel Post. Orders weighing over 4 pounds must be mailed at a more expensive rate, so please figure double the standard shipping charges. If you charge your purchase to a credit card, we will calculate your exact shipping costs and add it to your bill.

OUTSIDE NORTH AMERICA:

If you charge your purchase to a credit card, we will calculate the exact shipping cost and add it to your bill. Please specify Air Parcel Post or Surface Mail (please note that Surface Mail can take at least 6 weeks). If you do NOT use a credit card, please send us your order without payment. We will advise you of availability of the items you want, and notify you of the total cost, including shipping. You may then send us a money order in US Dollars (money orders must be drawn on a bank with a US branch).

RUSH DELIVERY:

As a special service, we can send your order via several air carriers: UPS 2-Day Air, UPS Next Day Air, Federal Express or Express Mail. This service is available on phone orders only, so that we may confirm the item availability and advise you of the extra cost.

Due to the ever-changing nature of the book and video publishing industry...
